

Florin Denarius

Nice To Meet You

For this assignment I chose to watch two videos about accountants one private, Sara, and one corporate (Brandon) accountant. I will separate the answers when needed. The private accountant has been working in their field for about 2-3 years and the corporate accountant is working during their first year. The private accountant has a focus on foreign currencies and the corporate accountant is just a general accountant. Both jobs consisted of working in a traditional office space for about 8 hours wearing business casual clothing. The salaries were about the same with at a little over $60,000 a year. The pertinent skills for being an accountant is a good knowledge of basic mathematics and statistics as well as proficiency in spreadsheet programs. Both jobs extensive focus on using spreadsheets and being behind a desk a majority of the time. Some interesting aspects of the job are the certain benefits they have. Sara for example can take breaks at her leisure so long as her work gets completed meaning she can go outside for fresh air without having to worry about clocking in or out. Brandon being a corporate accountant enjoys the perks of working in a corporate office space which means he can enjoy free breakfast foods when he shows up to work for the day and can make use of corporate facilities like the corporate gym/locker room. This performance-based workstyle is something I really enjoy and makes me excited to live an independent lifestyle.